

President's Program.

Plans for the Summer Subject to Change.

AT DEER PARK FOR TWO WEEKS.

He Will Then Go to Bar Harbor for Another Four-Week Appointment. Made by the President—Extra Session of Congress Talk—Other Dispatches From Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—While the plans of the president for the summer have been mapped out in a general way, they are subject to change at any time, for a definite program has not been determined upon.

Today the president and Mrs. Harrison will leave Washington for Deer Park, where they will remain for two weeks. At the end of that time the president will return to Washington, and after spending a few days here will join Secretary Blaine at Bar Harbor, remaining with him another fortnight.

Mrs. Harrison has not yet decided whether she will accompany the president on this northern trip. At the conclusion of his visit to Mr. Blaine, the president will again come to Washington and prepare for a longer stay at Deer Park. It is his intention to be there during the whole month of September. It is probable that the program given will be carried out, although the length of the president's stay at each place may be changed through his personal desires or the demands of public business.

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The president has made the following appointments: William R. Rife, of Tennessee, to his position agent at Knoxville; William A. Richards, of Wyoming, to be surveyor general of Wyoming; Francis Sullivan, of Dakota, to be surveyor general of Dakota.

To be registers of land offices: Charles B. Cornell, of Nebraska, at Valentine, Neb.; Edward P. Champlin, of Wyoming, at Cheyenne, Wyo.; T. J. Martin, of California, at Visalia, Cal.; John A. McBeth, of Colorado, at Denver, Col.

To be receivers of public moneys: Robert L. Freeman, of California, at Visalia, Cal.; Leroy Grant, of Wyoming, at Cheyenne, Wyo. T.

To be Indian agents: T. J. Buford, of Oregon, at the Siletz agency in Oregon; John P. McGinnis, of Washington territory, at the Neath Bay agency in Washington territory; D. J. M. Wood, at the Ponce, Pawnee, Otoe and Oakland agency in the Indian territory.

It Will Be Enquired Into.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—It is issued at the state department that Secretary Blaine and Minister Reid, have by no means resolved to drop the case of the three American ladies who are alleged to have been unlawfully imprisoned by officials at Montana, France. Minister Reid has the matter in hand at present, and his last advice to the state department were that he had gathered all his material for proceedings to take action in the case, with the exception of securing the affidavits of the three ladies, who do not seem to be in any hurry to get back to Paris where their statements are to be taken. A state department official said today that there might be some misunderstanding between Minister Reid and the ladies, as to where their deposition should be taken, but the department had arranged to effectually dispose of such a difficulty if any such has occurred. The state department will take action on the case when the affidavits of the ladies are received.

Extra Session Talk.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Hon. Nathan Frank, representative from the Ninth Missouri district, was among the president's visitors yesterday. After his interview with Mr. Harrison Congressman Frank expressed the conviction that there would be an extra session of congress called, probably in October.

"I believe that the date of the extra session will depend upon the result of the elections in the new states," said Mr. Frank. "If those states send a strong Republican delegation to congress as is expected the president will probably issue the proclamation admitting them to the Union Oct. 15 and call the extra session of congress for the latter part of October or the first of November. If, however, we should be disappointed in the result of the elections, I think congress will be called together early in October. I do not speak with any authority, but that is my judgment."

River and Harbor Improvements.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The report of Lieut. Beach, in charge of river and harbor improvements in western Pennsylvania and Ohio, contains the following estimate for the year ending June 30, 1891: Allegheny river, Pennsylvania, $50,000; dam at Hen's Island, Allegheny river, $100,000; Ice Harbor at mouth of Muskingum river, Ohio, $15,000.

Lieut. Beach says in his report on Allegheny river: "Much relief can be given the struggling commerce of the river by continuing the class of work now under way, as many localities remain that require improvement. I would call special attention to three places, viz., Hickory ripple, Tit Hole ripple and Cowanishan Rock ripple. At each of these a dike is needed to better its condition."

Trying the New War Vessels.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Secretary Tracy has decided to send the new vessels, Chicago, Boston, Atlanta and Yorktown, to Newport at an early date, where speed and turning trials will be made in accordance with established regulations. A board of naval officers with Comm-

SWEPT BY FLOOD.

Residences Washed Away and Many Lives Lost in the Little Kanawha.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 20.—A special from Parkersburg, W. Va., says: The greatest disaster which ever befell Little Kanawha valley came Thursday night in the shape of a terrible deluge, which has completely flooded the country, destroying many lives, carrying off thousands of dollars in property and ruining the crops for many miles. The deluge fell here about dusk, and continued to fall in torrents, doing much damage in the city.

The worst of the storm struck the lower side of the Kanawha, filling small tributaries from bank to bank, and ending in the worst flood within the recollection of the oldest inhabitants. In three hours the Kanawha raised six feet, and ran out with such velocity that it carried everything before it. At this point thousands of logs and a number of boats went out or were sunk. Little Kanawha company lost 2,000 logs; West Mill, ten rafts; Barringer, several rafts; W. P. Madden, five barges with ties, several of which were caught below; Keever & Company, lost four barges of coal; Miller, three rafts and 2,000 ties; Taylor, one fleet of timber; Charles Wells, four barges. In one hour 3,000 logs went out.

Mrs. Isaac H. Tucker, Martin Lawless and an unknown man were drowned. Above the destruction was still greater. Big Tygart valley is completely ruined. The big mill near its mouth went out and took the Tygart bridge with it. In the valley all the fences, crops and much live stock were lost. At Chesterville, a small town about ten miles above, half the residences were carried off bodily and left in cornfields. In Clay district, a fine church and three dwellings were wrecked.

About noon information was received that the steamer Oneida had been wrecked and sunk at Enterprise above. Still later a report came that the steamer C. C. Martin was sunk at Burning Springs. The Little Tygart is also reported completely ruined. Heatherington's steamer, Capt. Spencer's residence, C. P. Cooper's residence and that of J. W. Smith are completely demolished, but no lives are reported lost as yet.

The worst story of all comes from Morrisown, a small village near the head of Tucker creek, where the deluge concentrated in all its fury, coming down in the village about midnight and totally destroying it, together with many of its people. The first report gave the loss at eleven, but later news seems to fix the loss at a greater number.

The houses of the citizens are said to have been picked up and hurled against each other in such short space of time that no chance to escape was given the people. Among those lost at Morrisown are Jake Kizer, his brothers, Joseph and Thomas, a man named Bailey, Orville West, wife and child. The body of a man, believed to be another Morrisown victim, was found on Richardson farm this morning. At Hill Island, all bridges and culverts are washed away, and it is impossible to reach or communicate with that point or any other of upper waters. It is impossible now to communicate the losses even here, as the river is still rising and everything loose.

A family boat containing three or four persons went out during the night and it is believed all are lost, as the last seen of them was when the woman held up a child in her arms and beckoned for assistance as the house disappeared in the flood.

A freight train on the Ohio River railroad broke through a trestle at Harris ferry, completely wrecking the train and fatally injuring William Neptune, an employee. The wreck was caused by a heavy washout. Baltimore and Ohio trains are delayed by washout at Kanawha station.

It is just reported that Lock No. 1, above the city on the Little Kanawha, has given way before the flood.

In the Hooking Valley. NELSONVILLE, O., July 20.—A terrible storm swept over this valley Thursday night. The hooking river began to rise at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and continued until 11 o'clock, doing much damage. The crops are almost totally destroyed in the entire valley.

A trestle at Wright's siding gave way while a north bound coal train was crossing, completely wrecking the tender and ten cars of coal, piling them in one solid mass in the chasm below. James Welch, brakeman, miraculously escaped death. He jumped from the falling cars and swam ashore, with only a sprained ankle. All the streams in this vicinity are up, and several bridges have been swept away. There has been no serious damage to city property, and the river is slowly receding.

A Fatal Fire.

BROCKWAYVILLE, Pa., July 20.—Fire yesterday burned the Eagle Valley tannery, together with 500 cords of oak bark. John Striker, an employee, was burned to death. Andrew Striker, John Westerline, John Bergeson, John Fisher and George Smith were seriously burned and several others slightly burned. The loss is $20,000, fully insured.

Mrs. Logan Back From Europe.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Mrs. John A. Logan arrived from Europe yesterday on the North German Lloyd steamer Trave. Her son, John A. Logan, Jr., and his sister, Mrs. Tucker, went down to quarantine to meet their mother on a revenue cutter. The whole party left for Youngstown, O., in the afternoon.

A Burglars' Harvest.

TRENTON, N. J., July 20.—A gang of burglars have been working this city for several days. The store of C. B. Lawshe, a dry goods merchant, was robbed last night of $3,000 worth of silks.

Powderly Interviewed

He Is Incensed at President Corbin's Actions.

A WORKINGMAN'S LIBERTY.

The General Master Workman Issues an Address to the Pennsylvania Labor Assemblies—Directing How Ballots Should Be Used—The Workingman's Power If at the Polls.

CINCINNATI, July 20.—The recent order of President Corbin in the Reading railroad, in which he says that no man will be employed in the mining properties recently acquired by the railroad company, if he be a member of any labor organization other than those strictly limited to purposes of benevolence and insurance has aroused the indignation of the Knights of Labor. Powderly says of it:

"We take a great deal of comfort from the fact that a recent decision of the courts in a suit against the Missouri Pacific railroad has established the principle that a railroad company, as a common carrier, cannot, under its charter, own and operate mines or properties contiguous to its road. In Pennsylvania there is a constitutional prohibition of this very thing, and since President Corbin has issued such an arbitrary order, which anyone can see is very far-reaching in its results and aimed at the serious abridgment of the reasonable exercise of personal liberty, we propose to see whether the courts of the state of Pennsylvania will not fairly construe the state constitutional provision and secure to the citizen his freedom of action in such a strictly personal privilege."

In reference to this subject, Mr. Powderly has issued a letter to members of the Pennsylvania assemblies and all those interested, in which, after reciting some facts about the Molly Maguire organization of fourteen years ago, he takes the following ground on the present trouble. "Time has rolled on. Labor organization has revived and possibly some foolish acts were perpetrated by some of the organized ones, but their very worst doings could not, does not, cannot equal the treasonable actions of the officials of the Reading Railroad company. A strike was necessary and in 1887 the men were warned that Austin Corbin and a few others, I am not certain of the numbers, wanted to control the stock of the Reading and that they would in all probability be driven to a strike if not careful."

"The strike came. It was carefully and deliberately planned by the officials of the Reading company and when the proper time arrived Austin Corbin gave consent and it was allowed to proceed. The test is known to the public or will be by the time we get through with him. In defiance of constitutional law the Reading company continues to do two kinds of business, when the constitution of Pennsylvania expressly forbids it. Mr. Corbin goes still further—he buys the Reading iron works and then tells the men that he will have no more organization among workmen."

"Mr. Corbin is justified in believing that he has the right to say what the men in his employ may do in the hours in which they are not at work. The men in their actions during the last fourteen years have given him the right to think that the state is his, with which he may do as he pleases. If he will go still farther and drive the men to murder and assassination, as his predecessors did, he will be able to throw more dust in the eyes of a shrewd commonwealth, which allows its most valuable franchise to be controlled and wasted by men who do not reside in the state, who do not care for the state, and whose every act is one of violation of the state constitution. Shout for eight hours if you will, but what are your short hours if during the time you are not at work Austin Corbin shall dictate what you shall do?"

"Don't blame Austin Corbin for what he is doing. It is cowardly to whine about the oppressions of capital when we have the remedy in our hands. It is worse than cowardly to know how to do a thing and not do it. What is the remedy? I answer there is no remedy while the state of Pennsylvania is cursed with the presence of millions of Democratic and Republican workmen who do not realize that they should be citizens, freemen, patriots before being partisans."

"What will you do, I ask? How will you remedy the evil short of Anarchy and revolution? I answer, through a wise and judicious use of the ballot. Right here let me say to you that the man who now hints at deeds of violence as a remedy is a traitor to the state. If after all that has been told you you do not know how to apply the proper remedy then your cause is hopeless."

"We cannot compel obedience to the laws of Pennsylvania while men can be brow-beaten at the polls and compelled to vote as the corporation boss, the political boss, and the rum boss dictate. Before we can move hand or foot in the way of reform we must throw every safeguard around the ballot box. No rifles or bayonets, bombs or other weapons of cowards or weaklings will be necessary. What we require is a secret ballot, one by which the party freemen can become in truth freemen."

The master workman advocates the adoption of some such system of ballot reform as the Australian, asking that laboring men step aside from party ranks and join him in the demand. He closes by saying:

"You have trifled too long, men of Pennsylvania. It is time to work, and your duty is plain. Take this question up in your assemblies and act upon it. Allow no fault-finding, grumbling members to stop you because it is a political question. It is a political question, and one that concerns your daily bread—that bread for which you pray but for which you have to work like slaves or do without. I do not ask you to stop praying for bread, but I would ask you to work for it and vote for it in a different manner from that in which you have been working and voting.

"How many will act? How many will vote as I suggest? How many will cease to tie the American citizen's highest prerogative to the chariot wheels of party and cautions that they may forgo to the head of the procession and there do duty as becomes Americans who know how to wield the ballot?"

FIGHTING FAMILIES.

A Pitched Battle Between Two Families and Their Friends.

BIRMINGHAM, July 20.—A pitched battle occurred yesterday morning in the western part of this county, between the Simpson and Houghton families and friends of both sides. A bloody feud between the Simpsons and Houghtons has existed for three years. In the first fight yesterday two of the Houghton party were killed outright and several of the other party were wounded. Simpsons and their friends then took refuge in an old barn and were attacked by a party of officers guided by J. B. Houghton. The Simpsons opened fire and killed one of the officers, Deputy Sheriff Morgan, of this city, and fatally wounded Houghton. The fire was returned and one of the Simpson party killed, but the officers retired without making arrests.

A messenger from the scene of the battle has just arrived with a request that the sheriff send a strong posse at once, as more bloodshed is expected. Five of the Houghtons and three of the Simpsons have been killed since the feud began three years ago, and many others wounded. The two families are among the wealthiest and most prominent residents in the western part of the county.

Running a Typewriter Swindle.

NEW YORK, July 20.—United States Commissioner Shields yesterday held John F. Latimer, of Niverville, N. Y., in $1,500 bail for trial on a charge of using the mails for illegal purposes. It is said that Latimer has been doing a thriving business selling fake typewriters for some time. His game, if the charge be true, was to send postal cards over the country stating that he was manufacturing typewriters worth $25 each, and in order to introduce them to the public he would sell them for $1.25 each. Hundreds of answers were received to the $1.25 enclosed, but all they got in return was a small postcard box containing blocks with letters on them, with the "To Amuse Children."

A Big Four Wreck.

GREENSBURG, Ind., July 20.—The west-bound express from Cincinnati, due here at 9:30 p. m., collided Thursday night near New Point, ten miles west of here, with an east-bound freight. The freight broke in two, and the engine and the express failed to see the signal. One man, a painter, name unknown, was killed. Postal Clerk Cochran was severely injured in the telegraphed mail car. The engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 20.—The Prohibition state convention chose Courtland Parker chairman, and adopted a platform declaring against any licensing or a compromise. Hon. George La Monte was nominated for governor.

BALTIMORE, N. Y., July 20.—On the first ballot the McQuade jury voted eleven for acquittal and one for conviction. On the third ballot all voted for acquittal.

A Very Good Showing.

It Has Been Such in the Business World.

DUN'S WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

A Great Increase in Clearing House Transactions at All the Large Trade Centers—An Active and Prosperous Fall Trade Anticipated—A Favorable Crop Prospect.

NEW YORK, July 20.—J. C. Dun & Company's review of trade says: For the dull season of the year, business continues remarkably large. The increase in clearing house transaction for July, thus far, has been about 30 per cent. at New York, about 19 per cent. at Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago taken together, and about 16 per cent. in the aggregate at other cities. A gain so general and so great is not to be explained by any supposed increase in speculative transactions which chiefly affect clearings at the four cities named, nor by the settlements on commercial paper made in the winter and spring, for the increase in the first week of the month, which would naturally include the greater part of such settlements, was but little more than in the later weeks.

New business of a non-speculative character evidently exceeds that of the same month of the previous year. From all parts of the country, also, come reports that an active and prosperous fall trade is anticipated, and the crop prospects continue favorable. But the financial outlook is rendered uncertain by the continued exports of gold, the liquidation of foreign holders of securities, and the doubts about trust operations.

Secretary Whilden has talked with some freedom regarding the purchases of bonds, expressing the hope that more liberal offers will come whenever there is real need of larger supplies of money, but stating that prices now paid are as high as he thinks the government ought to pay. He has no power to help matters, he shows, if it proves that those who want money are not those who have bonds to sell, but considers that the monetary supply is at present ample.

The treasury has paid out during the past week $2,500,000 more than it has taken in, but the disbursements incident to the beginning of the new fiscal year will presently have passed, leaving bond purchases the only means of disposing of the surplus revenue. Already nearly $2,000,000 gold has been ordered for export this week, but the rate for money here does not rise, nor does foreign exchange alter.

Trade is clearly larger than a year ago at Cleveland, with good collections; improving at Pittsburgh; by no means active at Milwaukee, though collections are better; excellent in both respects at Omaha and "a fair average" at Kansas City; fair at New Orleans, with collections up to expectations; unchanged at Detroit, though money is in brisk demand; and rather more active at Philadelphia and New York. At most points there is observed a full normal demand for groceries, excepting articles supplied by contract, or speculation or trusts, and the demand has raised cable half a cent, with sales of 324,000 bags here, while distrust of combination has helped to lower the price of sugar an eighth. Supplies of dairy products are very large, and butter has fallen half, cheese a quarter of a cent. Pork products are a fraction lower. The movement of dry goods is a little more active here; but scanty at Philadelphia; print cloths have slightly declined to 4.94 cents for 61s, but bleached cottons are in better demand. The demand for woollens is still very conservative, but makers claim that the new and slightly advanced prices are as low as possible in view of the advance in wool.

Of the great industries, the woolen manufacture seems in most uncertainty, for the price of the material has further advanced about one cent on the average, and the tone is very firm, while manufacturers do not care to sell wool shorn by disposing of goods at present prices, and are not yet encouraged by the demand for goods to hope for an advance. There is a more confident feeling in the boot and shoe and leather trades, and the production having been limited by unremunerative prices, some improvement is expected. Rubber is weak at sixty-three cents for new paraffin. The coal market is dull and the demand backward, though the shipments east are large. The output for two weeks of July has been about 1,600,000 tons, and for the year thus far 1,300,000 less than last year, or 9 per cent.

Iron is hesitating again, for though furnaces are well sold for some weeks to come, consumers are not disposed to buy largely for later delivery at present prices and the belief that the present rate of production cannot be maintained seems to be increasing. The demand for finished products is not satisfactory, though rather better at New York, and sales of rails for the week have been but 15,000 tons. For the half year actual shipment of rails were 575,000 tons, against 555,558 last year, and 307,351 the year before. As the prospect in the stock market does not now encourage hopes of large railroad building for the rest of the year, the expectation of an advance in iron is less confident. Copper is weaker, with August loko offered at 11.75 cents, and lead is flat at 3.85 cents.

Wheat has been advanced a cent on report of extensive damage in Dakota, with sales of 17,000,000 bushels here. The accounts do not warrant expectation that they could well fall as low as 45¢, 000,000 bushels, which, with the 18¢ surplus still in hand, will much exceed any demand at present probable. Corn has advanced half a cent and oats a quarter without special reason. Cotton has been unchanged in price and dull. Oil has advanced three cents with small trading. The general average of prices is lower by nearly half of 1 per cent. than it was a week ago, and unless crops sustain great injury, is likely to go still lower. The exports last week were large, and for half of July about 25 per cent. in excess of last year's. But stocks have tended downward, and average about $1.25 per share lower than a week ago.

Business failures during the last seven days number for the United States 188, Canada 20; total, 208; compared with 209 last week, 202 the week previous to the last and 228 for the corresponding week of last year.

FATAL CURIOSITY.

Postmaster Killed for Opening a Mail Package.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 20.—A special to The Age-Herald reports that on Thursday Postmaster Gray, of Chain, Lamar county, was shot and killed by a man who escaped. Gray lived an hour, and gave the following account of the affair:

A few days ago a package came to the office addressed "Cain." No person living there bearing that name, he returned it to the sender. A man named Burrows called for the package Thursday, and being told it had been returned, asked Gray if he had seen its contents. Gray said yes, upon which Burrows shot him, and threatened to shoot Mrs. Gray and her sister. Gray said the package had come to the office partly open, and he could not help seeing that it contained a white mask. Gray also said Burrows was the same Robt. Burrows, the Arkansas train robber, who escaped from the officers at the Montgomery, Ala., a year or so ago, the time his brother Jim was caught and carried back to Arkansas.

It will be remembered that Robt. and Jim were in Montgomery, and a police officer had them in charge, taking them to police headquarters. At the foot of the steps both dashed for liberty, Robt. escaping, shooting a printer named Gray, who tried to intercept them. Robt. was subsequently surrounded and shot at by the officers, but disappeared in the swamps, since then he has not been heard of till now.
